

September 5, 2026

To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of reference for Nate Eisenstein, who worked with me at AngelList as a Banking Operations Associate from January 2025 to September 2026. During that time I had the opportunity to observe his work closely.

Nate was a pleasure to work with and brought a positive attitude to the team. He is timely and responsive, and I could count on him to follow through on what he committed to. He quickly took ownership of new projects and responsibilities. He is willing to step outside his comfort zone to learn new things and has a knack for spotting areas that need improvement.

Nate would be a valuable addition to any team, and I am happy to speak further about his work.

Sincerely,

[Name withheld for privacy]

Banking Operations Manager, AngelList

---

This is a redacted copy of an original signed reference letter. The author's name, email address, and phone number have been removed for privacy. If you would like to contact this reference, please ask Nathaniel Eisenstein (nbeisenstein@gmail.com) and he will share the author's name and contact details.